that the news of the arrest of agents and their criminal activities in the GDR was being exploited by party and government agencies in order to intimidate the people in the GDR and justify the establishment of a national army. He also pointed out that no sabotage activities had become known in the Neustrelitz district. Those people who ~~are called agents in the propaganda of the regime are in reality~~

only people who voiced an opinion differing from the official party line. It was, for example, asserted that epidemics had been caused by Western agents. In reality, epidemics among animals were caused, however, by poor husbandry and the feeding of rotten fodder. All epidemics had started at agricultural farm cooperatives or nationalized farms. Some of the preventive inoculations were futile because the vaccines used were without any value. In summary, the SED functionary sharply criticized the poor quality of the official propaganda conducted in the GDR.
